

Stream Deck on Raw Panel License

SKAARHOJ Stream Deck on Raw Panel License

The Stream Deck on Raw Panel application allows one or more Stream Deck surfaces to be connected to SKAARHOJ products, including the Blue Pill, using USB-A or Ethernet. By purchasing a license, Stream Deck devices are converted into Raw Panel-compliant devices, enabling network access and full integration with Reactor or any third-party Raw Panel-compliant applications. This solution allows professional-grade control setups, streamlining workflows and offering seamless integration with existing SKAARHOJ devices.

Benefits

- Seamlessly integrate Stream Decks into your SKAARHOJ control system
- Network-enable Stream Deck devices for flexible control setups
- Leverage the power of Raw Panel for third-party application integration
- Control multiple systems and devices easily with SKAARHOJ broadcast panels
- Access full functionality after a 10-minute free trial with a paid license
